

Better results by stronger cooperation

Jan Kars

Presidents' Meeting AAE
Brussels, 27 August 2015

Current situation

Smaller and midsize associations do not have enough resources for optimal representation in IAA.

- Lack of funds
- Lack of people
- Lack of support from employers

How to get started?

- Define priorities (for the Netherlands: Actuarial Standards, Education, Risk Management)
- For these main objectives the Dutch AG is represented by own members
- For other subjects we seek cooperation with other associations

How can we arrange this?

- Look for partnerships
- Decide on proxy's
- Only if points of view are not conflicting!

Advantages

- You have a vote in many more committees, so more influence
- Cost reduction
- Stronger mutual relations and partnerships

Existing cooperation

Germ,Austr,Switz,Neth

- European Actuarial Academy (EAA) offers CERA and CPD
- Close relationship and discussion matters that concerns all
- Sharing local strategic objectives and discussion European or IAA initiatives
- When we are not present when voting is an issue, we discuss our approach
- It always can be arranged better, but uptill now it works rather well.

Points of attention

- Investigate whether a member association can be represented by proxy
- Ask IAA for a list where proxy is limited/restricted
