actuvview

The first global streaming platform for actuaries

An Initiative of the German Actuarial Association | March 2019

actuview - the global streaming platform for actuaries

- www.actuview.com – actuaries can now find live broadcasts of national and international congresses and colloquia as well as online sessions on the entire spectrum of actuarial topics at this address
- Content is provided by actuarial associations, universities, companies and other partner institutions, as well as by individual proven experts from around the world.
- After the very successful realisation of the Virtual ICA 2018, the platform was launched in March 2019 with many new functionalities and a modern design under a new name and with its own logo

New features on www.actuview.com

■ Modern and clear layout

In addition to the logo and colour scheme, the entire web design of the platform was revised and modernised

■ Better search engine

Thanks to an improved search function, articles can now be found even more easily.

■ PDF attachments to the videos

Accompanying documents, such as the presentation slides, related extensive elaborations or further articles, can now be found directly under the video as a PDF attachment.

Regularly updated content

Currently, actuview has around 340 video contributions available for viewing – in the coming weeks and months, recordings of the IAA Section Colloquium in Cape Town in April, the live broadcast of the ECA 2019 in Lisbon at the beginning of June and numerous other contributions from our partners such as EAA, RGA, University of Ulm / ifa Ulm and many more will follow

The actuview community is growing

At the moment, there are about 3,200 users from over 100 countries registered on the platform and more are being added every day. Through actuview's Institutional Partner program, members of actuarial associations from Austria, Germany, Japan and Switzerland as well as the IAA Sections ASTIN, IAAHS, IAALS and IACA can access all content free of charge.

Strong network of partners actuview will continuously expand its partner network in the coming months and years. Interested institutions have the possibility to give their members, employees, customers, etc. access to the contents and / or to present their expertise on the platform.

Internal benefits for Institutional Partner

Free platform access for own members/students/employees/clients ...

- ... adds a high-valued offer to the general scope of services and benefits – individual actuaries cannot gain access
- ... supports the CPD activities of the own community by making a broad media library of relevant actuarial content available to them

External benefits

Participating as an institution ...

- ... creates awareness for the organisation in the international community
- ... strengthens the international network
- ... offers the opportunity to present national/regional/specific topics on a global level by contributing to the platform's content
