

Please see below information regarding status update on PSA's compliance with the new AAE Code of Professional Conduct:

- New Code of Professional Conduct has been developed by the Board of the Association and consulted with our Supervisory Committee.
- The new Code is to very high degree based on the AAE Code of Professional Conduct with necessary localization.
- The document has been recently sent out to all Members of the Association with request for comment.
- We would normally expect to make in-person presentation of the new Code during Annual Meeting, but of course in current circumstances the date of the meeting is impossible to be declared.
